

ROSA ELEONORA PERCESEPE

FOUNDER, PRESIDENT, MANAGER AND WRITER

I am the Project Manager at the Indian Chamber of Commerce in Italy - ICCI and a certified Italian language teacher for foreign students (DITALS II), with over 15 years of experience in educational program management, intercultural event coordination, and international project development. I have designed and led language and cultural training programs for universities, schools, companies, banks, consulates, and NGOs—working with individuals and groups of all ages and nationalities. Since 2007, I have managed educational travels, cultural exchanges, and international cooperation projects in Europe and then in India. I represent AEDE Lombardia – Italy (European Association of Teachers) and am the founder and president of Auroville International Italia E.T.S., where I oversee partnerships, fundraising, and large-scale intercultural initiatives. I also have experience working with public institutions such as the Province of Milan, and a background in interpretation, hospitality, and event support at international conferences and trade fairs. I am passionate about building bridges across cultures through education, language, and collaborative global projects.
